F. OBTAINING SUPPORTIVE HOUSING (NY/NY 3 OR NYC 15)

NY/NY 3 is a temporary, supportive housing program that serves nine distinct populations, including foster youth who age out. In this program, young people need to transition out by age 26. It includes both conglomerate/residential supportive housing, where services are voluntary, and scattered-site housing. Note: The quality of services varies by housing provider.

NYC 15 is an initiative to provide 15,000 units of permanent, supportive housing over 15 years. It has more funding than NY/NY 3 and thus more comprehensive staffing supports and on-site services for residents (all of which are voluntary). Under NYC 15, a youth aging out of care can qualify for single adult housing or housing for parenting youth (if they are pregnant/parenting). As NYC 15 is a more recent program, there are more spots open/opening.

The key differences between NY/NY 3 and NYC 15 are:
• NYC 15 is permanent housing and NY/NY 3 is temporary
• NYC 15 includes more robust staffing/on-site supports than NY/NY 3 (both are voluntary)
• While both applications require applicants to show they need supportive housing (not just affordable housing), NYC 15 is stricter about these requirements. Most foster youth aging out should meet these requirements – a clinical diagnosis is not required – if the forms are filled out correctly.

When a NY/NY 3 application is submitted, the application is also automatically screened for NYC 15 eligibility. It is important that all submitted documents align with each other and clearly describe the need for supportive housing (not just affordable housing). While a young person’s strengths can and should be highlighted, it is necessary to provide specifics and examples as to why they still need support in order for the application to be approved.

See Appendix I7_Applying to and Obtaining Supportive Housing NYC 15 to ensure that a young person’s application is accepted.
